WHILE THE WEATHER IS FINE

On Guard.

At midnight, on my lonely beat,
When shadow wraps the wood and lea
A vision seems my view to greet
Of one at home that prays for me

No roses bloom upon her cheek—
Her form is not a lover's dream—
But on her face, so fair and meek,
A host of holier beauties gleam.

For softly shines her silvery hair,
A patient smile is on her face,
And the mild lustrous light of prayer
Around her shaded moon-light grace.

She prays for one that's far away—
The soldier in his holy fight—
And begs that Heaven in his mercy may
Protect her boy and bless the Right.

Will, though the leagues lie far between,
This silent incense of her heart
Steals o'er my soul with breath serene
And we no longer are apart.

So guarding this my lonely beat,
By shadowy wood and haunted lea,
That vision seems my view to greet
Of her at home who prays for me.

The War in Southeastern Kentucky.

On the 26th ult., we received a dispatch announcing that a great battle had been fought in Pike county, Ky., between Gen. Nelson in command on the loyal side and a large rebel army. The Cincinnati Times, of the 7th Nov. gives the following account of the previous move of Gen. Nelson:

The command of General Nelson, now marching on Prestonsburg, consists of the following regiments: Second Ohio, Col. Harris; Twenty first Ohio, Col. Norton; Thirty-third Ohio, Col. Dill; Fifty-ninth Ohio, Col. Fife; and the Kentucky troops under Cols. Metcalf, Marshall, Apperson and Griggsby, with a battery of six guns, in charge of one company of the First Ohio Artillery regiment. On the 28th inst. the head-quarters were at Camp Wadsworth, Hazel Green. Col. Marshall, in command of 350 men as the advance took possession of the passes over Licking river, near Licking station.

The people in the mountains, under the protection of the Federal volunteers, are coming forward in great numbers to renew their allegiance to the Government, especially those who have been tinctured with secession. The proclamation of Gen. Nelson is a sufficient guarantee of immunity for past errors, and they readily have been misled by wicked leaders and seem anxious to return to their homes in peace.

Among these people, says our informant who is just from that section, the most ridiculous fears were felt of abuse from the Ohio troops, whom they regarded as fanatical Abolitionists. The excellent behavior and courtesy of our boys, however, is fast dispelling these fears, and winning for them many friends among the mountaineers.

The triumph of Harris's regiment at West Liberty was a brilliant one. The regiment marched twenty-seven miles in thirteen hours, mostly in the night, to surprise the rebels.—The road, too, was one almost impassible to horses, and the regiment, be it remembered, was in a drenching rain, without overcoats. In the engagement twenty-three rebels were killed and not a loyal soldier scratched.

The Thirty-fifth Ohio Regiment, Col. Vandiver, is at Paris waiting transportation wagons. As soon as these are obtained it will join Gen. Nelson's command.

The halt of Gen. Nelson at Hazel Green is occasioned by the want of commissary supplies. So soon as these are received, with proper transportation, he will advance to Prestonburg and give the rebels battle.—There, as in Virginia, and in fact at all points, the want of transportation facilities is a great impediment to an advance movement.

THE NEW STATE OF KANAWHA.—Every county of Western Virginia within the limits of the proposed new State of Kanawha, has, so far as heard from, given a large majority in favor of the proposition. Some of the returns are quite surprising in their unanimity. Thus, Preston county, which was only a little while ago under a rebel reign of terror, and where the county Sheriff and his minions announced that they would hang any person voting for the new State, has given 1,764 votes in favor and only nine against; and this vote is only some two hundred below the largest total vote ever polled in that county. The same result is true of other counties along the border, disenthralled by the visit of Gen. Kelly at the head of his troops, and by the breaking up of the dens of Secessionists at Romney. Delegates have been elected in all these counties, with the same unanimity, to the Constitutional Convention that is to meet at Wheeling next month. The delegates are from the best men of Western Virginia, and are largely composed of the pioneers in the movement for a division of the State. Thus far the success of the movement has been most gratifying. The consent of the people is not a tacit acquiescence, but the full and spontaneous ratification of the masses; and it will be found when the full vote is made up, which is now only reported piecemeal, that nearly the entire voting population have spoken in favor of a new State. The volunteers under arms, some five or six thousand already, should be added to the calculation. Sufficient returns also have been received to show that Blair has been elected to Congress in Carlile's district.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC 18, 1861.

The Mines and their Effects upon the Prices of Provisions.

The news from the mines is still greatly in favor of their richness and of their extent. When the Nez Perces mines were discovered, it was said that they were upon the outer verge of the mining country, and that mines would be found where gold would be much more plentiful. That fact has been realized; and we have now within a few hundred miles of us, easily reached, a gold region of unsurpassed richness. This matter is settled beyond question or dispute.

The Times, of yesterday morning, reminded its readers "that the Times first inaugurated the movement about the Nez Perces mines," and if that movement was inaugurated by sensation heads to articles and letters in relation to the mines, solely with a design to benefit the public, the Times is worthy of praise. For our part, while we published accounts from the mines, and gave all the information we could in regard to them, we deprecated an excitement which would take our mechanics from their shops and our farmers from their farms. We were desirous that men not profitably employed should try their luck there,—we felt anxious that the industrial pursuits in this valley should be continued. We believed that there were enough miners in California to give our mines a trial, without drawing a large number of men from our farming population. We thought that we were right then; and we do now.

We believe that in the coming season many, too many, of the farmers of this valley will go to the mines. The late disastrous flood will largely increase the number. Yet we still say that farmers who will put in crops and take care of them—who will raise stock and fatten them—who will greatly increase the number of their hogs and work them up into bacon and lard—who will grow all the descriptions of produce that will pay for transportation and will be wanted in the mines,—will find good gold diggings on their farms. Men should calculated when they leave their farm to go to destruction, even if they bring gold back, it will take much to replace them in the condition they left them and to furnish themselves and families with supplies for the year.

We doubt not that there will be an unprecedented rush of men to the mines in the the spring. While Oregon will contribute her hundreds, California will her thousands.

We have said that the country is on the eve of a wild excitement. But we would all the while impress upon our farmers the great truth that if money is made in the mines, it naturally will come here to pay for supplies, if our farmers have them for sale; and if they have not, it will go down to California—a state of things which we should deplore.

We say, therefore, to our farmers now, make food for the coming season. Plenty of time remains to add to the coming crop of wheat; and they should ask themselves what can we best do to avail ourselves of the markets thus furnished by the mines? This should be the subject of their thoughts; they should form their plans and work up to them. If they do so, as we have already said, every farmer will find good gold diggings on his own farm.

☞ We are sure that the attack upon Rev. Mr. Pearne in the Walla Walla Statesman, in a communication from Portland, was not noticed in the hurry of putting to press the first number of that paper.—There have been relations long existing between one of the editors of that paper which forbid the supposition that he would do injustice to Mr. Pearne; and hence we hope the friends of the latter gentleman will regard the matter more as an oversight than otherwise.

News from Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, Dec. 8, 1861.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Our town is filled with a variety of characters. Almost all grades and professions are represented. The gambling fraternity is fully represented. I think the Pacific coast must be well near purged of this class of persons; at least there appears when congregated here, more than a fair proportion of the sports. All kinds of devices are resorted to to entice persons to "buck" at their games.

The recently reputated slayer of Captain Staples is here, dealing out red-eye to his brother Confederates. A large proportion of the sports and patrons of such institutions here are secesh, in principles; and the ballads and music furnished at the saloons are exceedingly "Dixie." I judge from this that they cater to suit the whims and caprices (if their brethren.) The "Arcade" is where Patterson holds forth. There are many hard cases here from California.

The disposition to steal Cayuses has greatly increased since the breaking out of the Salmon river mines. Persons are arriving and departing every day for Salmon river and its tributaries. Gold has ceased to be estimated by the ounces; it goes now by the pound; and days' works are received by the latter process. Every person leaving here now goes well laden with supplies. Every person left, almost to a man, any way footloose, is making preparation to leave early in the Spring. Provisions in the new mines, at this time, bear very moderate prices for a mining locality.

We have had quite high waters here, for this season of the year. But little damage has been done. It looked a little threatening at one time, when the water was coursing about knee-deep in main street. Its progress was arrested after the third day, by throwing up a levee at the head of the street. It filled up most of the cellars in town. One good effect resulted from it: the streets were cleared of the rubbish and mud.

Money seems quite plenty here; any number of banks. I have seen as many as fourteen in one building. The tellers and cashiers assume all kinds of patronizing airs, and try to be as polite as dancing-masters. Some of our county officials are interested in these banks. We hope for a change in this particular, when the next contest occurs.

Freight, per ton measurement, is, from Portland to Old Fort Walla Walla, $75, by the steamer. You will observe from this that it costs something to live here. Speaking of the Old Fort reminds me of the fact that Vansycle & Co. have a "dead thing on a pile, sure." They keep hotel, livery stable, store, wharfboat, and furnish the steamboats with wood. It appears the Old Fort, with its buildings, etc., was abandoned by the Government. It is claimed by pre-emption, by the present proprietors. A question may arise some day as to its being a town site.

The Nez Perces Indians are on the best of terms with the whites; they barter and trade with them on white principles. When they furnish beef, they have their balances and scales to weigh it; and if they receive the pay for it in dust, they have their scales to weigh it. They are particular to a nicety in their business transactions.

Some of our people are rejoicing at the fact that there is, in anticipation, to be a large accession to our mining population from California; that they will deal with the Indians as has been their custom in that State; that they give the Diggers no quarter at all, no more than they do the bears and wolves. In this connection I would give a word of friendly caution to all such. I hope they will discriminate; and consider well the fact that they are not all Snakes with whom they come in contact.

I have just learned to-day that Bridges, of Oregon City, washed out in two hours, one hundred and eighty ounces of gold on Salmon river; and that another man got from one pan of dirt four pounds of the precious stuff. The stories that we hear are almost incredible. They are truly extravagant!

Mr. Barnhart, Indian Agent, with his suit, are in town, and leave in a day or two for the Umatilla Agency.

I came near forgetting that the secession paper, in prospective, was nipped in the bud. We rejoice that we have a good and true Union paper in our midst. It will counteract somewhat the tendency, heretofore too prevalent, in the army direction.

Our Legislature has got into a snarl similar to that of Oregon in 1852. Where is "Breakspeare?" Can he be prevailed upon to come to our rescue? He, Cervantes-like, helped Oregon in the hour of trial. D. J. S.

☞ The Lafayette prisoners have been sent to Fort Warren, in Boston harbor. They were a motley set. Among them were Ex-Minister Faulkener, Marshal Kane, Col. Pegram, Com. Barron, Col. Tyler and 42 officers from Hatteras, and a good many other notorious individuals. They do not expect to remain at Fort Warren for any great length of time; understanding that they are ultimately to be sent to some fort on Lake Erie.

The Albany paper is opposed to the exaction of oaths of allegiance from voters. It suggests that its friends would not like to take such oaths. The Statesman well says in reply: "We thought the oath would catch traitors at the election, about as thick as the devil's drag net at the last day, and it seems we were not MISTAKEN!"

We have heard, with pleasure, that mills will again be erected at Oregon City, and the breakwater be replaced. The improvements can now be made with reference to future floods.

Next June Election.

Editor of the Oregonian.

It was with pleasure I read an article published in the Weekly Oregonian of November 23d, on the subject of "next June Election." One of the patriotic presses of the State has at length recognized a movement which has long been discussed and extensively resolved upon by the people.

Though the Argus attempts to put down the movement recommended by your correspondent, with a sneer at the writer, whom it pretends is unworthy of notice, because "not a star of the first magnitude," I think it endangers the little influence it yet exercises as a public journal by putting itself in opposition to what every patriot must recognize as just in principle and correct in practice.

All questions at issue between political parties not settled by the late Presidential election, have been postponed or withdrawn from the political arena by the inexorable logic of events. The discussion of a tariff has been postponed for perhaps a century. The status of slavery has been appealed from ballots to bullets, and all those minor antagonisms that gave zest to late political contests, have no more relevance to the present great issue, than the justice of the Greek invasion of Troy, or any other event of the remote past. The Government, by its constituted authorities, having decided to wage it, even the origin of the present civil war has ceased to be a fit subject of inquiry, and its abstract justice or injustice would form no part of the considerations of a court in the trial of a case of treason. Whether the Government entered upon this war of its own choice, or the war was forced upon it, is in the unalterable past; the war exists as the question of the present, and the question of "next June election," and of all the elections that follow it until we have conquered a peace, is simply "are you for the Government, or against it?" and it is to be hoped the sneers of mercenary sheets, and the intrigues of small politicians on the one side, and the open attacks of traitors on the other, will equally fail in their attempts to invoke the prejudices of the past, or distract the attention of the people from the present, in order to subserve their venial or treasonable purposes.

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

Eastern papers contain many statements sustaining as well as condemning Gen. Fremont's course at St. Louis. It was a sad misfortune that he failed to reinforce Mulligan and Lyon. A court martial will bring out all the facts in the case.

We give another communication on the "June Election." It was written by a distinguished Republican residing in the Southern part of this State.

CITY.

DEFERRED DEPARTURE OF THE CORTES.—The steamer Cortes, which was to have left yesterday, did not go in consequence of the non-arrival of the steamer Rival, which had a quantity of freight for San Francisco. The Rival has some of her machinery broken, and could not get down. The Cortes sails this morning at eight o'clock.

THE PORTLAND RECRUITS.—We yesterday passed the house occupied by the men enlisted in this city for the Oregon Cavalry Regiment. By invitation, we stepped in and found the men busily engaged preparing their supper. There are about twenty of them, and they are all healthy looking men. They expect in a day or two to receive an additional number of thirty men, who have enlisted on the east side of the river in this county, when the company will be mustered in the service.

ANNUAL EXAMINATION.—The annual examination of the scholars of the Public School will take place on Thursday and Friday next.

LEFT VANCOUVER FOR OLYMPIA.—We are informed that the members of the Washington Territory Legislature, who convened at Vancouver, left the latter place yesterday morning for Olympia.

NEW CHURCH AT THE DALLES.—The newly-erected St. Peter's Church (Catholic) at the Dalles is to be dedicated on Sunday next, by the Rev. Father M. O'Riley, of this city, will preach.

We have another of those letters which H. Stark did not write:

"ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 29th, 1861.

DEAR CURRY:—As agreed, I drop you a line at this point. We have had a capital time so far. Glad we had no troops on board. Soldiers crowd the ship, besides the Zouave on ains sometimes as Sumner did in crowding those gentlemen, Ex-Senator Gwin and his companions du voyage. Their behavior after twice being arrested shows us the black abolition general Sumner, "put more into it" and indiscreetly used his "little brief authority." Would it not be well to count out of that affair? Do it cautiously—don't let old F——, get any clue at you as a score of loyalty. (Strictly inter nos, you must know that the papers were delivered.) You will see that the San Francisco Herald vouches for my loyalty. I swore like a trooper, was all right; and when I get to Washington I shall take strong grounds for secession. If "Nez" gets ahead of me in that direction he will have to go a long way. From last news I judge the South will accept into the traces, and that the government will be sustained. You had better work on their side, for the truth is it will be the winning one. You can say as secession democrats that you were always for the Union,—"one and inseparable." Ring the changes on Jackson—keep it up constantly; but don't "back the war or support the South. Do not get drawn into controversy on any account.—There is wisdom in my case. When you get your paper fully committed to the Union, and bringing up its character, you had better cut out, as I can do no more for you than to give you the rent free.

Truly yours, in haste,

H."

CLEARING UP THEIR TRACKS.—A Panama correspondent of a San Francisco paper says: "Some very important documents were found with Gwin; among which were plans of all the principal Union fortifications, together with the number of men at each, etc. Calhoun Benham and Mr. Brent threw overboard through the ports in their state-rooms, several packages of papers, which no doubt would have been valuable evidence against them. However, Gen. Sumner is sanguine that what documents he has are amply sufficient to condemn, not only the three arrested, but their confederates."

Willamette No. 1.—Drill this afternoon at half-past two o'clock. By order, R. H. KNAPP, Sec'y.
Portland, Dec. 18th, 1861.

AN ORDINANCE to license the selling of spirituous and malt liquors in the Williamette Theatre.

The people of the City of Portland do Ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be lawful for the owner, lessee, or lessees of the Williamette Theatre to sell spirituous or malt liquors in less quantities than one quart in said Williamette Theatre, upon paying to the City Collector the sum of twenty dollars per month, to be paid in advance.

SEC. 2. The City Collector shall, upon the receipt of twenty dollars from said owner, lessee, or lessees, issue a license for a period of one month from the date of said payment to said owner, lessee, or lessees, to sell spirituous or malt liquors, as provided in the first section of this Ordinance.

SEC. 3. This Ordinance shall take effect from and after its approval by the Mayor.

Passed the Common Council, December 6th, 1861.
WM. MASTERS, Acting President.
H. Bonn, Clerk.
Approved, December 12th, 1861.
JOHN M. BRECK, Mayor.

Swett's Grape Bitters, or Restorative Wine, manufactured under the supervision of Mrs. A. M. Swett, the celebrated Clairvoyant Physician, and prepared from roots and herbs of great medicinal virtue, combined with the pure juice of the California Grape—a certain remedy for Liver Complaint, Debility, Biliousness, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Impaired Appetite, Impure Breath, &c., and all diseases requiring a powerful Liver Invigorator and Tonic. Warrant of the best remedy ever invented for diseases peculiar to females, such as Leucorrhœa or Whites, Weaknesses, &c. Sold by all Druggists, and by DANIEL SWETT, Proprietor, 535 California street, San Francisco. aug2d6m

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, for the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary and eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has lent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.

examining my case, effected a cure in a surprisingly short time. This relieved me of the last of my troubles. Encouraged by the result, I resolved immediately to consult his care, and by strictly following his directions and advice, my health was soon restored. The accidental collection, the constant pain in my head, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous irritability of my body on the slightest alarm, the dizziness of my head, and all forebodings, the self-distrust, the timidity in others, the inability to labor, and the frightful, exciting, and at times sleepless night, followed by involuntary discharges, disappeared, and in fact, in two months after I had commenced with the doctor, I felt as if I had called by a new existence, but a short time ago I could scarcely raise my hand. With the view to guard others from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I have given this testimony to the merit and success of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may require medical advice, being assured by my own experience that he can under his care effect a radical and permanent cure.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco: Sir—I have taken the last of your medicine, and do not feel the need of any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not yet got my strength yet, but soon will with your medicine. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I commenced your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, entirely ruined, and never thought you would restore me perfectly, but thought you might be able to relieve me, or to ease the pain in my back and head, and nervousness, so that I would not get excited and fret at everything. Now that you know what I was, you can judge of my satisfaction at my complete relief from all my symptoms, and the removal of those sores from my face and my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the discharges of those emissions, which you said were the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for with the first dose I got my strength. I feel as well as any two men.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars more, as I do not think myself cheaply cured. If you think my case will be benefited, you may put this letter in the papers. I believe me gratefully yours, THOMAS.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honorable sentiment I wish to lay before the public a case which I consider a recommendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but of humanity also. About two years ago, I was taken with a disease unknown to me, was seized with a fit of sickness, which, owing to my inability to meet the necessary consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the management which I met with on attempting it, (which I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in the streets, seized and thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the scenes I was exposing, the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from the storm, as men who sought to prolong the enjoyment of my misery. While in this state, and having previous to my illness tasted the sweets of life, I once more resolved on seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my misfortune, and of my inability to reward him for his services, the result of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and, by the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I now possess, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I feel it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the same known, in order that those in need of medical advice may call upon a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
